

Monster Stones

Mouse makes up a monster to scare away Snake, Owl and Fox. Make up your own monster with this game – and let's hope it doesn't turn out to be real!

Adventure kit: At least twenty plain smooth stones, no smaller than a coin and no bigger than your hand, and some paints or felt tip pens.

What to do:

1. Paint or draw a terrible monster feature on each stone.

You will need a mixture of:

nasty noses enormous ears scary hair
evil eyes monster mouths with terrible teeth

And don't forget to make all your features truly monstrous . . .

You might like to include:

terrible tongues wicked warts hideous horns
beastly brows poisonous pimples

2. Once you've done as many stones as you want, leave them to dry. Then mix them up and turn them all over so you can't see the features.

3. Choose ten stones at random.

4. Make a monster face using the stones you have chosen. How scary can you make it? Will your face have one eye, two tongues or only noses?!
5. Play the game with a friend and see who can make the most fearsome monster.

Hints and tips:

- Marker pens work well on stones but remember they will also mark your skin so check with a grown-up before using them.
- Twenty stones is good for two players, but you may need to design some more if you have more than one friend who wants to play.
